DCI FELLOWSHIPS

IN

THE CENTER FOR THE STUDY OF INTELLIGENCE (CSI)

Mission/Description

Research and study by DCI Fellows of issues related to the doctrine, theory, process or profession of intelligence, or of issues concerning long-term Agency or Intelligence Community policy.

The objective of the Center combines illumination of relevant issues with professional enrichment of the individual officer through research, reflection, and articulation of ideas.

Award of DCI Fellowships

By the DCI through the appropriate component and Directorate channels of career boards and then to the CIA Training Selection Board for final screening and selection prior to submission to the DCI.*

Candidate Criteria

Normally middle-grade officer (GS-12 to GS-14), with minimum of three years' creditable service in the CIA or another component of the

*The CIA Training Selection Board encourages women and minority employees to apply.
